CARELESS SHOOTING ON THE FRONTIER.
A letter from an ex-post chaplain to the New York Tribune, dated Footville, Wisconsin, June 5, says:

On the march of our regiment from Sioux City, Iowa, to Fort Sully, D. T., we were overtaken by a young frontiersman, whose parents lived in the northern part of the Territory. He had been with Gen. Sibley's expedition, and had been recently discharged, and was now on his way home; with us he could have company and rations. He had his horse, and rifle and cavalry accoutrements with him. After we had gone into camp one evening and supper was over, the boys gathered in groups as usual to enjoy a chat. In the group around our frontiersman a discussion arose on the respective power and accuracy of their pieces. This young man praised his piece above all others, for long range and accuracy. Just then one of our men saw what he thought was a buffalo, or deer, crossing a butte, about a mile off, and challenged him to shoot at that. But he said it was neither a deer nor a buffalo, but an Indian, and he thought he could hit him, or at any rate he could scare him. He drew a bead and fired; the object was seen to spring up in the air, and some one exclaimed, "You hit him." He replied, very coolly: "Don't know; an Indian would jump that way and then fall down if he heard the whizz of a ball, just to prevent your firing again." Some of our boys caught his spirit, and said "It was only an Indian, anyhow," but most of them were shocked that a man, who had never done any harm should be shot at in so cold-blooded a manner. At a roll call one of our soldiers said he had shot at two miles back to catch a fish for supper; another said he was down with Company K, so the inquiry was passed over unanswered. The sergeant, however, who shared the shelter tent with the young man who had shot at the Indian, was restless all night, and could not sleep for thinking that, perhaps, it was young P., the missing man, that was shot. He watched for peep of day, then woke the young man up, proposing to go up the butte and see if he had hit that Indian. They went, and when they drew near enough to see the object on the ground distinctly, the frontiersman, who was ahead, threw up his hands and exclaimed: "My God, it's a soldier!" It was our lost comrade, a quiet, peaceable youth of about 19 years of age. The ball had passed right through his head.

The young man who shot him was put under arrest, depositions taken, and when we reached the river, was sent, by the first down boat, under guard, to Sioux City. Having been discharged, he was a civilian, and we had to hand him over to the civil authority. Had he been in the service, we could have dealt with him under martial law. He remained there until the Grand Jury met, when they decided they had no jurisdiction—no bill found. Had he shot an Indian, we could not have done anything with him, as an Indian is not a citizen. A trader, who has been several years in the Indian country, told me, it had been an Indian, our regiment would have lost many a scalp as the penalty of the wickedness of that one man. This would have led to reprisals and then there would have been numerous accounts of "Indian outrages."

HORRORS OF PARIS.—Mr. Darbois, the Archbishop of Paris, and all the Abbots and priests who were massacred at La Roquette prison at the same time as he, died with the courage of the old martyrs for the faith. The Archbishop spoke words of forgiveness and pardon to his murderers before they shot him. On Wednesday, the 24th of May, one Lorancais, an ex-galley-slave, who acted as a body of fifty National Guards to the cells occupied by the Archbishop and the hundred or more other hostages. They were then made to follow them to the broad circular road which separates the building from the outer walls of the prison. Here the venerable Mr. Darbois and his companions were shot, one at a time. The first shooting shot was Pere Allard; then came the Archbishop, and so on to the end. The venerable Abbe Duguery was the last executed. While most of the wretches who were engaged in these cruel murders heaped revilings upon the heads of their prisoners before shooting them, two of the Nationals knelt before the Archbishop and implored his pardon; but the others rushed at them, and with kicks and cuffs drove them away. After the executions the bodies were placed in a goods wagon of the Lyons Railway Company, and taken to France. Chaise and flung promiscuously into a trench, without a handful of earth being thrown over them.

The seven days of fighting and massacre which resulted in the overthrow of the Commune were full of such horrors as were unknown even in the most sanguinary horrors of the Reign of Terror. The butchery, at the prison of La Roquette, of the Archbishop of Paris, many other high church dignitaries and priests and numerous citizens, to the number of sixty-eight headed the list of wanton cruelties. But there were other horrible massacres inflicted upon each other by Versailles and Communists, which almost surpass belief. Near the house of Minister Washburne, six children, between the ages of eight and ten years, caught setting fire to houses, were summarily shot by a Versailles officer of high rank. Families that sympathized with the Commune, upon the taking of a barricade by the Versailles, would offer the soldiers hospitalities only to poison them with the food and wine given to them. Upon the discovery of this, the whole family would be shot in return by the furious comrades of the poisoned soldiers. Women, for expressing their sympathy with the Commune and their contempt for the Versailles, would be shot on the spot. The Marquis of Gallifet, a general in the regular army, rode along the lines while 10,000 Communist prisoners were halted in the avenue de l'Imperatrice, selected 100 of their number for execution, and sent them off to the Bois de Boulogne, where they were instantly put to death. This man, as we learn recently by cable, was a few days ago shot by the widow of a Communist whom he had unfortunate 100 above-mentioned. At Luxembourg, in the Park of Monceau, and in the square Tour St. Jacques whole drove to march up to large trenches, stand with their faces to the pit, and in this position they were fired at from behind, when, tumbling into the trench, all dead and wounded, were buried together.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with laxity. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the Liver with

MEDICAL.

Baltimore Lock Hospital.
DR. JOHNSTON. Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effective Remedy in the world for all DISEASES OF IMPUDENCE.

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Stricture, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Langour, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, Headache, Dizziness, Discharge of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c.

YOUNG MEN. Especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Habits, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or walked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE. Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency), Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS. Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is, the penalty paid by the victims of Improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural power of the system is thereby impaired, and the pleasure of the healthy offspring, the happiness and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility and Wasting of the system, Cough, Consumption Decay and Death.

ACURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS. Relief in 24 Hours! No Mercury! Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trading Pretenders and their Deceitful Schemes, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most successful cures that were ever known; many thousands of persons, the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz. Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervousness, Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Irritability, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, and their vigor, becoming weak, their nerves and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN. Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions at school, the effects of which are highly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in perverted habits. Such persons must, before contemplating MARRIAGE. Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPUDENCE. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or a desire to recover their honor from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone benefit him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, dimness of sight, pain in the head, back, limbs, dimness of sight, stiffness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth, or the bowels of the rectum, become a horrid object of consideration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveler returns."

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands DIE from this terrible disease, through falling victims to the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRETENDERS, who, for the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer in agonies, and instead of being relieved, in despair leave him to ruin his health to sigh over his galling disappointment.

DR. JOHNSTON. OFFICE, No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK STREET, BALTIMORE, MD. Left hand side going down Baltimore street a few doors from the corner. Call out to observe name and number.

No letters accepted unless postpaid and containing a stamp to be used on the reply. Persons writing should state age, and send a portion of advertisement describing symptoms.
